Whats also interesting, and pure speculation, is Forrest's comment that anything over 10 miles is too far too walk. Was that his way of telling us that 5 miles in and 5 miles back out is as far as one needs to go. I just find it strange that my father in law walks 12 yet I would bet Forrest was in better shape than him at 72.

How Far Is Too Far Too Walk? | Treasure Tracer

That is correct 90 feet is the distance from home plate to first base, but "first base" technically then is where too far to walk is as it is not far but when you receive a walk you have to run or jog down to first base, it is un-sportsman-like to literally walk a walk. Lets test this with my poem contiguous theme.

Forrest Fenn's Magnum Opus

It does seem to fit Forrest, as he claims to have walked over 90 miles in one day, and makes a point of how he's still good at walking even with his age and battle wear. Perhaps this just means, then, that the distance needed to travel down the canyon for the second stanza to work is zero, or that the home of Brown is immediately adjacent.
